

Sachin Sashti: Letter to Shareholders

Finance | Accounting | Philosophy

Purpose: Keeping in touch is easier said than done.

As a “shareholder”, this means you have invested meaningful support in my journey. Given your status as an investor, I want to share a short update on my life, twice a year. I also hope this will create a space to share your updates with me as well.

To reiterate, you are receiving this email because I value the perspective you bring to my life, therefore no advice is unsolicited!

The theme for this letter is Chaotic Serenity as it captures an experience with the paradoxical coexistence of disorder and calmness. Enjoy and don't hesitate to reply :).

Hoping our paths cross soon,

Sachin Sashti

Here are questions I am looking for guidance on, feel free to keep these in mind as you read through:

- 1.) In preparing for your career, do you view college more like a sprint or a marathon?
- 2.) To those with real estate experience: How can I start laying the foundation to own a future property portfolio?
- 3.) Agree or Disagree: A good leader must know who they are leading and where they are going
- 4.) What is one goal you have for 2025?

Completed goals since the last update:

- Run a Full Marathon
- Complete a 72 hour water fast

Education & Academics

First semester of junior year marks a critical shift of course maturity

My College Roommates and I

This semester I took my first:

- Honors Class
- Major Specific Finance Course
- Master of Accounting Course

With these classes emphasizing critical thinking, I wrote over 100 pages throughout the semester.

Philosophy - A Concentration in Logic
Logic is the study of reasoning—a branch of philosophy I find fascinating.

- Given its practical value, I'm considering making it the focus of my philosophy major. What are your thoughts on this?

Work + Extra Curriculars

Kimberly-Clark Corporation

I currently work as a Financial Supply Chain Analyst Intern at K-C, having started in June 2024

- Upon successful completion of the summer internship, I was contracted to work 20 hours weekly until May 2025
- My most notable achievement was leading the implementation of the first electric vehicles into the company's supply chain!

At Penn State

I started two new positions: University Debate Team member and Career Services Intern (CSI)

- In my first debate tournament my partner and I went 6 - 0, winning first place!
- As a CSI in the business career center, I have helped over 75 students in their professional journeys with sessions ranging from resume reviews to mock interviews and internship advice.

Outside the Classroom

I ran the Philadelphia marathon and am grateful to have had my family come support me!

Looking Forward: Goals

Professional

1. Read 12 books in 2025 - Recs?
2. TA for a class outside the college of business
3. Intern in New York City

Personal

1. Complete a half Ironman in the next year
2. Ski 3 times in the next 6 months
